

REPORT ON CONSTITUTION DAY CELEBRATION

Date: 26th November 2025

Venue: Building 2, Malki

Organised by: ICFAI University Meghalaya

Time: 10:00 AM

Constitution Day of India, also known as Samvidhan Diwas, is celebrated every year on 26th November to commemorate the adoption of the Indian Constitution in 1949. The celebration is held to honour the guiding principles of the nation and to create awareness among students about the constitutional values that shape India's democracy.

The Constitution Day programme was conducted on 26th November 2025 at the University premises, under the initiative of the NSS of the ICFAI University Meghalaya. The event aims to promote constitutional values such as Justice, Liberty, Equality, and Fraternity among students and faculty members.

The programme began with a formal introduction by the NSS PO, Mr. H.Jones Syiem, a faculty member and Programme Officer of National Service Scheme (NSS PO), who highlighted the significance of the day and the vital role of the Constitution in shaping India's democratic framework. The event proceeded with the NSS song, led by the university choir, followed by the Constitution Day pledge, taken jointly by the National Service Scheme (NSS PO) and both faculty and students.

After the pledge, Ms. Bawan P Ryntathiang, NSS Programme Coordinator (PC), was invited to deliver words of appreciation and to felicitate Ms. Rithime D. Marak, a 2nd-year BA Political Science student and NSS member of ICFAI University, who was selected to represent the state at the Republic Day (RD) Camp 2025 in New Delhi.

Following this, a debate session was conducted among students on the topic "Why is the Constitution Important?" The participants expressed insightful views that highlighted the significance of constitutional rights, duties, and the relevance of the Preamble and Ms. Rithime D Marak was announced as the winner.

Speakers throughout the programme emphasised the importance of respecting and upholding the principles outlined in the Constitution. Key concepts such as Fundamental Rights, Fundamental Duties, and the Preamble were discussed in simple and meaningful ways to ensure effective engagement and understanding among students.

The celebration concluded on a positive note, reminding everyone of the importance of safeguarding democratic values and respecting the rights of every individual. The programme strengthened the participants' understanding of the guiding principles of the Indian Constitution and inspired them to uphold these values .

The event successfully ended with a photo session involving all participants and faculty members. After the main event with the students, a short programme was also conducted for the university administration staff members, where they too participated in taking the pledge through the Preamble of the Constitution.
